Jewell Harris Entertains the Juvenile Embroidery Club.

Thursday afternoon at three thirty, Jewell Harris was hostess for the little embroidery maidens and a jolly time they had out on the lawn of her home on Rose Hill.

A short business meeting was held for the purpose of electing officers, which resulted in the election of Mary Howell, the winsome little daughter of Mrs. J. R. G. Howell for President, and Jewell Harris, the interesting little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Harris for Vice President. Later in the afternoon work was laid aside and games such as those dear little tots delight in were enjoyed, and delicious refreshments served on the lawn brought another happy afternoon to a close. The club will be entertained next Thursday by Margaret Allen.

The D and L Club will meet tomorrow with Annie Laurie Harris.

It kinder bothers a reporter for a real pretty girl to come in on one train and leave on another before he has time to find out who she is.

Mr. E. L. Morris has returned from Selma where he has been attending the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.

We wish to thank you very kindly for the liberal patronage you have given us since having charge of this place of amusement and in appreciation of same we have ordered an up-to-date Edison Phetorless Motion Machine which should arrive next week. This machine gives a fifty per cent better and brighter picture, the objects move naturally, the picture is steady and brighter in fact, it is a perfection in every respect. Watch for our announcement of its arrival.

Again thanking you and hoping for continuance of your patronage and promising you the very best of pictures from a moral standpoint, we beg to remain,

Very truly,

E. L. AND MRS. MORRIS

The union Prayer meeting will be held next Sunday at 11 o'clock at the First Avenue Church at 339. Let us have a large attendance of men and boys. Read 19th Psalm. LEADLR

All in-takers of the Eastern Star are cordially requested to be present Tuesday, May 18, 1909, at 8 p.m. Several candidates are to be initiated.

PICNIC AT COUMBI

The Sunday Schools of Columbia are having a big union picnic at Wood's Mill today. The day is ideal and the crowd should be large.

PICNIC AT SLOCOMB

The Sunday Schools of Slocomb are also having a union picnic near that place today. People from both towns are helping out the children and other good things.

LADIES NOT NEARBY

No one need hurry to do some odd jobs today. Since folks are so busy, they do the dirty work. Of course, it is better to let machine be run by a man, but then the machine is not for a boy, then you have the art. It is thought that the attachment is the invention of some old bachelor.

F. M. Collins of Troy, who has been here buying up script for a week or two in the count, decided he liked the pipe and subscribed for it just to keep up with the events.

TRIES TO GET HOME WITH HIS NECK BROKEN

New York, May 13.—Racing with death, which physicians have assured him is inevitable, Alexis Landent, a miner, is attempting with a broken neck to make the trip from Birmingham, Ala., to Moscow, Russia. Part of the young man reside in Moscow, and it is due to an overwearing desire to see them that he has undertaken the remarkable journey.

Landent was injured in an accident in an Alabama mine several weeks ago and reached New York City yesterday on his way to Russia. He will rest in a hospital there for a few days and will then sail for home.
